CANDIDATES IN FINAL LAP OF CAMPAIGNS

DAWES, DAVIS, LA FOLLETTE IN STIRRING TALKS

DAWES CARRIES FIGHT INTO KANSAS, DAVIS IN INDIANA

LA FOLLETTE EXPECTS TO ROLL UP VOTES IN INDEPENDENT
WEST

(By United Press)
En route with Dawes, Topeka, Kansas, Oct. 11.—Charles G. Dawes, republican vice-presidential candidate, carried his fight into Kansas today following the close of his Iowa-Nebraska tour with a speech at Omaha last night.

He combined an answer to the "windmill orator," an editorial published in the Omaha World Herald owned by former Senator Hitchcock, democrat, with his assault on LaFollette.

DAVIS MAINTAINS
HIS CONFIDENCE

Aboard the John W. Davis train, en route to Indiana, Oct. 11.—John W. Davis opened his final speaking tour in the middle west today, confident as his train sped into Indiana that he has at least as good a chance as the other two candidates of getting a majority of the great states of the grain belt.

Davis considers Indiana one of the most hotly contested of all the states and will concentrate on the Hoosier voters in an almost continuous series of speeches today. He made a number of rear platform talks and was scheduled for a major address at Richmond, Ill., this afternoon and Indianapolis tonight.

Davis' present tour will continue practically until election week. He will speak Sunday at Indianapolis and Monday will enter on a speaking tour carrying him into Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee.

LA FOLLETTE IN PRAIRIE AND MOUNTAIN STATES

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Out where the independent voting west begins, where he expects to roll up big majorities from farm and factory, Senator LaFollette today opened his presidential campaign which will take him through the prairie and mountain states and perhaps to the Pacific coast.

Whether he will go to the coast will be decided today at a conference with Representative John N. Nelson, Wisconsin, chairman of his campaign committee. Although LaFollette originally planned to include Washington, Oregon and California in his itinerary, the trip is now in doubt.

Five speaking engagements in the middle west have already been scheduled following two addresses here tonight. They are Kansas City Oct. 13, St. Louis Oct. 14, Des Moines Oct. 15, Minneapolis or St. Paul Oct. 16 and Sioux Falls, S. D., October 17.

$23,000,000
FOR ARMY AVIATION

(By United Press)
Washington, Oct. 11.—Secretary of War Weeks today announced he would ask the budget bureau for an appropriation of approximately $23,000,000 for army aviation this year, an increase of nearly $10,000,000 over last year.

The sum, Weeks said, would be devoted entirely to procurement of new aircraft and equipment.

500 DROPPED
FROM MINNESOTA
NATIONAL GUARD

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 11.—Five hundred men are to be dropped from the Minnesota National Guard. Orders from the militia authorities at Washington recited the necessity of cutting down the personnel to maintenance strength because of a small appropriation. The order will make the average size of companies 65 men.

Dynamite Bombs Used in Election Arguments

25 HURT IN SUBURBAN CAR
COLLISION TODAY

(By United Press)
Youngstown, O., Oct. 11.—Twenty-five persons were injured, many of them seriously, when two interurban car crashed head on here today.

Ambulances brought 17 of the injured to Youngstown hospitals. Both cars were said to have been crowded with persons on their way to work.

The crash occurred on a single track, just as one of the cars was leaving a switch.

FLIES 150
MILES HOUR
AND WRECKED

U. S. N. RACING SEAPLANE MEETS WITH DISASTER

DROPS 110 FEET INTO DELAWARE
RIVER NEAR PHILADELPHIA

(By United Press)
Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—Flying at a speed estimated to have been in excess of 150 miles an hour, the U. S. N. racing seaplane, F-2 W. today fell 110 feet into the Delaware river and was completely wrecked.

Lieut. A. W. Gorten, the pilot, who was carried beneath the wreckage, extricated himself from the wreckage, swam to the surface and was picked up by the crew of a tug.

At the hospital of the Philadelphia navy yard physicians said he was badly hurt but had escaped fatal injury.

Drowned in Leap
From G. N. Bridge to Escape From Train

Minneapolis, Oct. 11.—Apparently fearing that he would be hit by a train, Emil Carlson, Minneapolis railroad employe, jumped from the Great Northern railroad bridge over the river in Minneapolis and was drowned.

Carlson was crossing the bridge on the ties and when he reached the middle a train appeared at one end. The bridge was not wide enough to allow him to stay on as the train went by, so Carlson jumped into the river.

A train crew on shore came out in a boat to rescue him but he could not be found. The body was picked up three blocks down the river a short time later.

Died From Wounds
Received When Blimp
TC-2 Exploded

(By United Press)
Washington, Oct. 11.—Lieut. Bruce R. Martin, who was injured in the explosion which wrecked the army blimp TC-2, died today at Langley Flying Field hospital, the War Department here announced.

His body will be shipped here this afternoon, it was said.

FATHER DROPS DEAD
AS SON WAS LEAVING
HOME FOR FIRST TIME

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 11.—Watching his son leave home for the first time in his life, William J. Feeser, 71, dropped dead on the river levee late yesterday.

The son, John, put back to shore but his father was dead when he reached his side. Shipping on a dredge, the boy was to have started to Tampa, Fla., and to have been gone three months, but the boat left without him.

SHENANDOAH
ARRIVES SAFELY
AT SAN DIEGO

GREAT AIR CRUISER BATTLED ITS WAY THROUGH SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

HAD DANGEROUS VOYAGE OVER
JAGGED CLIFFS OF MOUNTAINS

(By United Press)
San Diego, Calif., Oct. 11.—Safe after the most thrilling flight ever made by a Zeppelin, the giant navy dirigible Shenandoah swung gracefully at her mooring mast at Rockwell Field here today, ready to take off for Lakeview, Wash., on the last leg of her outward journey between 9 a. m. and noon.

The great air cruiser, after battling through gales over the jagged cliffs of southern California and all but being destroyed, reached her moorings at 11:30 last night (Pacific coast time).

A huge crowd which had waited with increasing anxiety for eight hours had thinned as the dirigible was sighted over San Diego shortly before 11 o'clock. There was a lusty cheer from those who had waited, hoping against hope that the skill of her navigators and the reliability of the great ship had brought her safely through the unfavorable weather of the mountains.

BIG SHIP DAMAGED
WHILE MAKING LANDING

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 11.—Damage to the Shenandoah incurred while landing at North Island last night may delay the northern flight of the big dirigible several days, naval air station officers announced early today.

In settling to rest after her grilling battle with the weather, the tail of the giant craft touched the ground first, forcing several struts of the rear control car into the covering of the rigid envelope.

Mechanics were examining the dirigible this morning and expected to be able to announce the extent of the damage later in the day.

PINE RIVER MAN
INHERITS $25,000

Howard Rohdeau received word this week that according to the will of an uncle who recently died he has been left a legacy of $25,000.

His uncle was Frank Wigley, of North Yakima, Wash. He was owner of a 200-acre fruit farm in Washington, also owning 200 acres in southern Minnesota and extensive business properties scattered all over the country.

About eight years ago Howard visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wigley and as they had no children they were desirous of his making his home with them. He thought nothing more of it until receiving word of the bequest. Of late he has been working with his brothers George and Ernest at the Home Bakery. He intends to make a trip west in the near future.

Mr. Wigley was 61 years of age and is survived by his wife.—Pine River Sentinel-Blaze.

MINNESOTA RURAL CREDITS BOARD

AGAIN DISCONTINUES RECEIVING APPLICATIONS FOR LOANS

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 11.—The Minnesota Rural Credits Board has again discontinued receiving applications for loans.

The funds of the Board are nearly run out and applications now on hand are expected to use the money on hand, E. J. Oppiger, chairman of the board, announced today.

HASKELL, MINNESOTA
14 TO 0 AT END OF
THE FIRST HALF

The first half of the Minnesota football game with the Haskell Indians closed, as the Dispatch went to press, with a score of 14 to 0 in favor of Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, 2,
ORIOLES, 1,
END OF 4TH

A flash from St. Paul at 3:30 o'clock gave St. Paul 2, Baltimore 1, at the end of the fourth inning, in the little world series.

ZR-3 TO SAIL
FOR AMERICA
SUNDAY MORNING

START TODAY CALLED OFF ACCOUNT OF THE HAZY WEATHER

LIFTING TESTS MADE WERE FOUND TO BE UNSATISFACTORY

(By United Press)
Friedrichshafen, Germany, Oct. 11.—The flight to America of the dirigible ZR-3, scheduled to have started this morning, was postponed at 8 a. m. until tomorrow.

All of the crew and passengers had settled in the ship when Dr. Eckner, flight commander, called off the start because of moisture in the air and hazy weather. Lifting tests were found unsatisfactory, and Eckner estimated the dirigible would be forced to lose four tons of benzine if it ascended, due to the heaviness of the atmosphere.

Reports from other sections of Germany indicated clear skies and moderate temperatures.

TO FLY TO U. S. A.
6 A. M. TOMORROW

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Oct. 11.—The Zeppelin ZR-3 will start its flight to America tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock, according to tentative plans announced here this afternoon by Dr. Hugo Eckner, commander.

RUM RUNNERS
SHOOT WAY OUT OF TRAP SET

SAUK RAPIDS SCENE OF CONTRABAND LIQUOR RUN
MADE

SHERIFF'S ORDER TO HALT CAR
MET BY VOLLEY, NO ONE INJURED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 11.—Rum runners shot their way out of a police trap at Sauk Rapids last night and escaped toward the Twin Cities.

Sheriff Frank McGregor of Benton county and police of Sauk Rapids received a tip that a carload of liquor was coming down the Jefferson highway and waited for them at a sharp turn of the road.

As the car slowed down for the turn they stepped in front of the car and ordered a halt. The reply was several shots from the car.

The fire was returned but the car took a side road and escaped. The road led to Monticello but the rum runners evidently turned off before reaching that place.

CHINESE CIVILIANS REBEL AGAINST
WARLORD TACTICS

SEVERE RIOTING IN SHANGHAI
STREETS, MANY INJURED

MUTTERINGS HEARD OF UPRISING AGAINST GEN.
LU

(By United Press)
Shanghai, China, Oct. 11.—Infuriated Chinese civilians today rebelled against the ruthless tactics of General Lu Yung Hsiang, warlord of Chekiang and master of Shanghai for many months.

There was severe rioting in the streets as Lu's troops attempted to restore order. Scores were injured.

There were mutterings of an uprising against Lu all during the night and at daybreak a great crowd gathered in front of the temple in the Chinese quarter, urging the people to take control of the city into their own hands and expel the warlord responsible for all their woes.

Lu was accused of prolonging his war with General Chi Hsieh Yuan, master of Kiangsu, without "sense or reason" and subjecting the civilian population to all manner of indignities.

Crowds surged through the streets armed with sticks and stones to attack Lu's troops, who have been withstanding the attack of Chi's Kiangsu army for many weeks.

Order finally was restored after the soldiers had charged with drawn sabers.

Sees Ruin of Iron Range
If Farm-Laborites Win

Hibbing, Oct. 11.—Claims that ruin would follow on the iron range if the Farmer-Labor platform was put in practice were made here by Theodore Christianson, Republican nominee for governor.

He pointed out that the platform calls for public ownership of mineral deposits, as well as railroads, other industries and natural resources.

"Government ownership would mean that no tax could be levied on the mining properties of the range," he said, "and the people who now pay $167,323 would have to pay more than $5,000,000 to raise the present income of the city of Hibbing alone."

Mr. Christianson then showed how taxes would be similarly affected in Virginia, Eveleth, Aurora and other range municipalities.

State Sen. M. J. Conroy
Died at Home of Brother

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 11.—State Senator Martin J. Conroy died suddenly at the home of his brother, R. J. Conroy, early today. Heart trouble was the cause.

Governor Preus said an election to fill his place in the legislature may be held November 4.

REPORT AMERICANS
IN BANDIT GANG

2 ARRESTED ON SUSPICION NEAR
EL PASO FOR COMMITTING
CRIME IN MEXICO

(By United Press)
El Paso, Oct. 11.—Two men, described as Americans, were held for investigation at Villa Ahumada, 40 miles south of the border today, in connection with the wrecking and robbery of the Erupcion Mine ore train yesterday in which nine persons were shot to death by bandits.

Soldiers arrested the two men on a highway leading to Juarez. They carried no loot.

Three Americans and three Mexicans were among the bandit gang, according to the reports here.

FARM BOY
MURDERER SENT TO PENITENTIARY

(By United Press)
Middleburg, Pa., Oct. 11.—Judge I. Miles Potter of Snyder county today sentenced Ralph Shadle, farm boy murderer, to not more than 20 years and not less than 10 years in the Eastern penitentiary.

40 YEAR BRIDE
18 YEAR HUSBAND

ILL-MATCHED PAIR HONEYMOONING ON THE COAST

NESTLED IN PALATIAL HOME,
DECEMBER-MAY COUPLE

Pasadena, Oct. 11.—Nestled in a palatial home in the exclusive Flintridge district of Pasadena, December and May, with the former a 40-year-old bride and the latter her 18-year-old husband, are living happily, defying all predictions of their families and critics at large.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton S. Tucker, who fled from their New Jersey "home town" in the face of a storm of criticism and threats of annulment suits, see nothing but fair weather ahead, despite the differences in their ages. To them their home, and their baby, Violet Tucker, assure happiness, despite the maledictions their marriage aroused.

"We have a right to live our own lives, and we are happy in doing it," Mrs. Tucker, not concealing the fact that she is well past middle-age, declared. Her boy husband, perched on the arm of her chair, seconded her comment affectionately.

"People are growing more away from the old-time conventions and restrictions," Mrs. Tucker continued. "Our happiness is summed up in a home life and love."

"We hesitated a long time before we took this step. We knew people would say that Burt married me for my money but within ourselves we finally became convinced that there was real affection. These months since we were married have proved it to us."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Tucker claim their love would have been none the less had she been penniless. But they do not deny that it is with her money that the youth has been set up in the real estate business with an independent income already coming in.

Overtures of reconciliation have been made to the Tucker family back in New Jersey, but so far they have been spurned. There will be no family gatherings in the Flintridge "love nest," at least not now.

But whether the families back east are won around or not, there will be no change in the love of the December-May couple, both declare. They point to the many "old man-young girl" marriages which frequently are successful.

"Ours is just the same, only reversed," the Tuckers declare. — St. Paul Daily News.

NATIONAL BANK
CALL ON STATUS
AS OF OCT. 10

(By United Press)
Washington, Oct. 11.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of national banks as of October 10.

London's City Hall

The Guildhall is the city hall or town hall of London. It dates from the early Fifteenth century. It is the grand civil hall where sovereigns and princes are entertained, freedoms conferred and the great city functions take place. It contains the offices and council chamber of the corporation of the city of London.

WAR MATERIAL
SEEMS MIXED UP

SEIZURE MADE OF 600 BOMBS,
100,000 ROUNDS OF AMMUNITION, ETC.

GEN. MENOCA CHARGES PRES.
ZAYAS WITH HAMPERING
CONSERVATIVE CAMPAIGN

(By United Press)
Havana, Oct. 11.—Six hundred dynamite bombs, 100,000 rounds of ammunition and other war material have been seized at San Jose de Las Lages in connection with political disturbances growing out of the presidential campaign, it was learned today.

Simultaneously, General Mario Menocal, conservative nominee, issued a manifesto "to the people of Cuba" at Santiago de Cuba, charging President Zayas with deliberate hampering of the conservative campaign.

The president has consistently refused to allow the facts surrounding the tragedy at Camaguey last Sunday when eight were killed and many wounded in a political riot, to be made public, Menocal said.

WORLD'S SERIES
RECEIPTS MARK

Washington, Oct. 11.—A new record for world's series receipts was established by the Giants and Senators. Figures for the seven games, $1,093,104, exceed by $38,289, those of the only other million dollar series, the six contest battle between the Giants and Yankees in New York last year.

Attendance figures were not exceeded however. The mark of 233,695 set in this series, fell 17,735 short of the 301,430 who saw the series last season.

BUREAU GETS VIEWS OF STATE LAWMAKERS

The Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation has made a survey of the attitude of members and prospective members of the Minnesota state legislature toward proposed state and federal constitutional amendments and other measures which, in view of the coming election, are engaging public attention. The results of this survey should be of interest to voters.

The attitude of legislators was sought on four different questions: (1) the proposed amendment to the state constitution giving the legislature power to impose a tax on gasoline, the proceeds to be used for road purposes; (2) the proposed amendment to the state constitution authorizing the establishment of state owned terminal grain elevators at Minneapolis and Duluth; (3) the county area test plan for tuberculosis control; and (4) the proposed amendment to the federal constitution giving congress the power to limit, regulate and prohibit the employment of persons under 18 years of age.

Early returns from this survey are as follows: Forty-two legislators favored the gas tax amendment and three were against it; thirty-six favored state owned elevators—six of them conditionally—and three were opposed; thirty-three favored the area test for tuberculosis—six of them conditionally—and six were opposed; seventeen favored the labor amendment and thirty-five opposed it.

The object of this survey was to get an idea of public sentiment on these measures, all of which are of interest to the voters of the state and especially to farmers.

It will be noted that there was no effort to make any division between parties in making the survey. The Farm Bureau is a strictly non-partisan organization and stands for freedom of action in regard to the franchise.

DAWES, DAVIS, LA FOLLETTE IN STIRRING TALKS

DAWES CARRIES FIGHT INTO KANSAS, DAVIS IN INDIANA

LA FOLLETTE EXPECTS TO ROLL UP VOTES IN INDEPENDENT WEST

(By United Press)
En route with Dawes, Topeka, Kansas, Oct. 11.—Charles G. Dawes, republican vice-presidential candidate, carried his fight into Kansas today following the close of his Iowa-Nebraska tour with a speech at Omaha last night.

He combined an answer to the "windmill orator," an editorial published in the Omaha World Herald owned by former Senator Hitchcock, democrat, with his assault on LaFollette.

DAVIS MAINTAINS HIS CONFIDENCE

Aboard the John W. Davis train, en route to Indiana, Oct. 11.—John W. Davis opened his final speaking tour in the middle west today, confident as his train sped into Indiana that he has at least as good a chance as the other two candidates of getting a majority of the great states of the grain belt.

Davis considers Indiana one of the most hotly contested of all the states and will concentrate on the Hoosier voters in an almost continuous series of speeches today. He made a number of rear platform talks and was scheduled for a major address at Richmond, Ill., this afternoon and Indianapolis tonight.

Davis' present tour will continue practically until election week. He will speak Sunday at Indianapolis and Monday will enter on a speaking tour carrying him into Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee.

LA FOLLETTE IN PRAIRIE AND MOUNTAIN STATES

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Out where the independent voting west begins, where he expects to roll up big majorities from farm and factory, Senator LaFollette today opened his presidential campaign which will take him through the prairie and mountain states and perhaps to the Pacific coast.

Whether he will go to the coast will be decided today at a conference with Representative John N. Nelson, Wisconsin, chairman of his campaign committee. Although LaFollette originally planned to include Washington, Oregon and California in his itinerary, the trip is now in doubt.

Five speaking engagements in the middle west have already been scheduled following two addresses here tonight. They are Kansas City Oct. 13, St. Louis Oct. 14, Des Moines Oct. 15, Minneapolis or St. Paul Oct. 16 and Sioux Falls, S. D., October 17.

$23,000,000

U. S. N. RACING SEAPLANE MEETS WITH DISASTER

DROPS 110 FEET INTO DELAWARE RIVER NEAR PHILADELPHIA

(By United Press)
Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—Flying at a speed estimated to have been in excess of 150 miles an hour, the U. S. N. racing seaplane, F-2 W. today fell 110 feet into the Delaware river and was completely wrecked.

Lieut. A. W. Gorten, the pilot, who was carried beneath the water, extricated himself from the wreckage, swam to the surface and was picked up by the crew of a tug.

At the hospital of the Philadelphia navy yard physicians said he was badly hurt but had escaped fatal injury.

Drowned in Leap From G. N. Bridge to Escape From Train

Minneapolis, Oct. 11.—Apparently fearing that he would be hit by a train, Emil Carlson, Minneapolis railroad employe, jumped from the Great Northern railroad bridge over the river in Minneapolis and was drowned.

Carlson was crossing the bridge on the ties and when he reached the middle a train appeared at one end. The bridge was not wide enough to allow him to stay on as the train went by, so Carlson jumped into the river.

A train crew on shore came out in a boat to rescue him but he could not be found. The body was picked up three blocks down the river a short time later.

Died From Wounds Received When Blimp TC-2 Exploded

(By United Press)

"Government ownership would mean that no tax could be levied on the mining properties of the range," he said, "and the people who now pay $167,323 would have to pay more than $5,000,000 to raise the present income of the city of Hibbing alone."

Mr. Christianson then showed how taxes would be similarly affected in Virginia, Eveleth, Aurora and other range municipalities.

State Sen. M. J. Conroy Died at Home of Brother

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 11.—State Senator Martin J. Conroy died suddenly at the home of his brother, R. J. Conroy, early today. Heart trouble was the cause.

Governor Preus said an election to fill his place in the legislature may be held November 4.

REPORT AMERICANS IN BANDIT GANG

2 ARRESTED ON SUSPICION NEAR EL PASO FOR COMMITTING CRIME IN MEXICO

(By United Press)
El Paso, Oct. 11.—Two men, described as Americans, were held for investigation at Villa Ahumada, 49 miles south of the border today, in connection with the wrecking and robbery of the Erupcion Mine ore train yesterday in which nine persons were shot to death by bandits.

Soldiers arrested the two men on a highway leading to Juarez. They carried no loot.

Three Americans and three Mexicans were among the bandit gang, according to the reports here.

FARM BOY MURDERER SENT TO PENITENTIARY

(By United Press)
Middleburg, Pa., Oct. 11.—Judge I. Miles Potter of Snyder county today sentenced Ralph Shadle, farm boy murderer, to not more than 20 years and not less than 10 years in the Eastern penitentiary.

40 YEAR BRIDE HAPPY WITH HER 18 YEAR HUSBAND

ILL-MATCHED PAIR HONEYMOONING ON THE COAST

NESTLED IN PALATIAL HOME, DECEMBER-MAY COUPLE

Pasadena, Oct. 11.—Nestled in a palatial home in the exclusive Flintridge district of Pasadena, December and May, with the former a 40-year-old bride and the latter her 18-year-old husband, are living happily, defying all predictions of their families and critics at large.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton S. Tucker, who fled from their New Jersey "home town" in the face of a storm of criticism and threats of annulment suits, see nothing but fair weather ahead, despite the differences in their ages. To them their home, and their baby, Violet Tucker, assure happiness, despite the maledictions their marriage aroused.

"We have a right to live our own lives, and we are happy in doing it," Mrs. Tucker, not concealing the fact that she is well past middle-age, declared. Her boy husband, perched on the arm of her chair, seconded her comment affectionately.

"People are growing more away from the old-time conventions and restrictions," Mrs. Tucker continued. "Our happiness is summed up in a home life and love."

"We hesitated a long time before we took this step. We knew people would say that Burt married me for my money but within ourselves we finally became convinced that there was real affection. These months since we were married have proved it to us."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Tucker claim their love would have been none the less had she been penniless. But they do not deny that it is with her money that the youth has been set up in the real estate business with an independent income already coming in.

Overtures of reconciliation have been made to the Tucker family back in New Jersey, but so far they have been spurned. There will be no family gatherings in the Flintridge "love nest," at least not now.

But whether the families back east are won around or not, there will be no change in the love of the December-May couple, both declare. They point to the many "old man-young girl" marriages which frequently are successful.

"Ours is just the same, only reversed," the Tuckers declare. — St. Paul Daily News.

London's City Hall

The Guildhall is the city hall or town hall of London. It dates from the early fifteenth century. It is the grand civil hall where sovereigns and princes are entertained, freedoms conferred and the great city functions take place. It contains the offices and council chamber of the corporation of the city of London.

WAR MATERIAL SEEMS MIXED UP IN CUBAN POLITICS

SEIZURE MADE OF 600 BOMBS, 100,000 ROUNDS OF AMMUNITION, ETC.

GEN. MENOCA CHARGES PRES. ZAYAS WITH HAMPERING CONSERVATIVE CAMPAIGN

(By United Press)
Havana, Oct. 11.—Six hundred dynamite bombs, 100,000 rounds of ammunition and other war material have been seized at San Jose de Las Lages in connection with political disturbances growing out of the presidential campaign. It was learned today.

Simultaneously, General Mario Menocal, conservative nominee, issued a manifesto "to the people of Cuba" at Santiago de Cuba, charging President Zayas with deliberate hampering of the conservative campaign.

The president has consistently refused to allow the facts surrounding the tragedy at Camaguey last Sunday when eight were killed and many wounded in a political riot, to be made public, Menocal said.

WORLD'S SERIES RECEIPTS MARK

Washington, Oct. 11.—A new record for world's series receipts was established by the Giants and Senators. Figures for the seven games, $1,093,104, exceed by $38,289, those of the only other million dollar series, the six contest battle between the Giants and Yankees in New York last year.

Attendance figures were not exceeded however. The mark of 233,695 set in this series, fell 17,735 short of the 301,430 who saw the series last season.

BUREAU GETS VIEWS OF STATE LAWMAKERS

The Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation has made a survey of the attitude of members and prospective members of the Minnesota state legislature toward proposed state and federal constitutional amendments and other measures which, in view of the coming election, are engaging public attention. The results of this survey should be of interest to voters.

The attitude of legislators was sought on four different questions: (1) the proposed amendment to the state constitution giving the legislature power to impose a tax on gasoline, the proceeds to be used for road purposes; (2) the proposed amendment to the state constitution authorizing the establishment of state owned terminal grain elevators at Minneapolis and Duluth; (3) the county area test plan for tuberculosis control; and (4) the proposed amendment to the federal constitution giving congress the power to limit, regulate and prohibit the employment of persons under 18 years of age.

Early returns from this survey are as follows: Forty-two legislators favored the gas tax amendment and three were against it; thirty-six favored state owned elevators—six of them conditionally—and three were opposed; thirty-three favored the area test for tuberculosis—six of them conditionally—and six were opposed; seventeen favored the labor amendment and thirty-five opposed it.

The object of this survey was to get an idea of public sentiment on these measures, all of which are of interest to the voters of the state and especially to farmers.

It will be noted that there was no effort to make any division between parties in making the survey. The Farm Bureau is a strictly non-partisan organization and stands for freedom of action in regard to the franchise.

Seventh Year As a Pastor? ... ?

Rev. E. A. Cooke Again Appointed to the Brainerd M. E. Church

CONGREGATION PLEASED

He Has Furnished Leadership Resulting in Healthy Growth in the Church

Tomorrow Rev. E. A. Cooke will begin his seventh year of service as pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in this city. He was appointed by the bishop at the annual conference of the church which closed last Sunday night.

His congregation were unanimous in their desire that he return. He has furnished leadership which has resulted in a healthy growth of the church.

His return was made the subject of some humorous remarks by W. C. Cobb at the Rotary meeting on Tuesday. Rev. Cooke has been an active member of this organization. He has given generously of his efforts to further the civic interests of the city. He believes this to be a part of the gospel he preaches.

It is expected that a large congregation will greet him tomorrow as he enters his new year of service in Brainerd.

A farce differs from a comedy in the emphasis placed on the plot. In a farce the characters are what the plot requires them to be, while in a comedy the plot is subordinated to the characters. The "Farce de Pathelin" is considered the most famous, its authorship being attributed to different persons. Generally, Pierre Blanchet, who lived in the Fifteenth century, is credited with it, but some think it was written by the poet Villon.

PAUL HANSON PASSED AWAY

Resident of Brainerd 40 Years Died at Buffalo on Thursday

Word has been received that Paul Hanson passed away Thursday at Buffalo, Minn. Mr. Hanson was about 70 years old and an old resident of Brainerd, having lived here for about 40 years, the last few years of his residence here being at the corner of Quince and 10th streets South.

About three years ago he entered the Swedish Mission Ebenezer home for the aged at Buffalo where he spent the last days of his life. Ancele lived in the city several years ago but her present address is not known and as far as can be learned this is the only relative.

Rev. P. G. Fallquist and John Soderlund went to Buffalo where Rev. Fallquist will conduct the funeral services this afternoon.

THE PASSING OF WALTER JOHNSON

"WIN the pennant so Walter Johnson can pitch in the world series," seems to have been the slogan that imbued the Senators to cop the American league gonfalon. With that safely in their grasp, came the tussle in the world series.

Walter pitched two games. In the first game he struck out a whole row of men and did his part, but the team back of him didn't have enough hitting punch. In the second game Walter's fast ball didn't have the hop and his curve didn't break right.

Why the bad showing of Johnson in the world series? We say he burned himself up pitching to win the pennant. Always a willing worker, we say he half killed himself to win the league pennant.

Some credit too to Bucky Harris for having a real heart. When Johnson slipped badly in his second game, Harris refused to pull him and send him to the showers. There is a lot of sentiment in baseball, a lot of heart interest. That whole crowd was pulling for Johnson to win, and a sigh went up when the Giants commenced their merciless rally on his offering.

But such is baseball. When these lines were penned before the last game, we supposed it was all up with Walter. But out of the depths of two smashing defeats, enough to take the heart out of a man, Johnson took in hand a tie game, 3 to 3, running eight innings, and pitched the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth innings, turning in the final score 4 to 3, which won the game and the world's series pennant for Washington.

And Johnson's smoke ball was working perfectly. He was the Johnson of old, calm, cool, in perfect control and with a zip to his ball. Like Joe Bullet Bush's delivery, the ball shot so swiftly it piled up an air cushion at the plate and literally hopped.

DO WE WANT EUROPEAN CONDITIONS HERE?

IN his opening speech at New York, Senator La Follette said: "The greatest inspiration of the world today is the fact that in every quarter of the globe the people are gaining control of their government. On every side we see a reawakening of the people, a rebirth of genuine democracy. It is that fact, my friends, which should give us here in America hope, determination, and supreme confidence. The tidal wave of democracy that is sweeping the world knows no national boundaries or continental limitations. It is today sweeping over the United States."

If that does not mean that in the opinion of Senator La Follette old world countries are in advance of America in promoting the welfare of their people, what does it mean?

How many Americans want this country to follow Russia, Germany, France, or even Great Britain, in their recent courses? How many farmers, in spite of their present troubles, how many working men, would change places with European farmers and working men?

WE ARE INTERESTED IN TARIFF

ONE-TENTH of all the dairy products of the United States are produced in Minnesota, and consequently we are interested in adequate tariff protection against foreign imports.

Congressman Harold Knutson has sensed this condition of affairs and is ever alert to protect the interests of our dairymen and farmers generally. He has a bill before congress giving additional protection to dairy products. Action was taken when the exchange fluctuations permitted Danish buttermakers to market their product here at a large profit at prices which tended to undermine the home dairymen.

CROW WING COUNTY POTATOES

GREEN MOUNTAIN potatoes running a pound and a half or more in weight are being brought to the Dispatch office by Crow Wing county farmers. The latest big potato arriving is a two pound Green Mountain from the fertile fields of Emil Hildebrandt, who has a farm on 13th street road near Brainerd.

The potato crop promises to be a large one and of high quality. Crow Wing county seed potatoes have a high value too and are largely bought by Iowa farmers.

A WOMAN sometimes never loses entire faith in her man. Witness the Detroit lady suing her husband for divorce. In her complaint she asks that $10,000 which he is going to win in the world series be attached. She still seems to bank on his ability to pick a winner.

GREATER love for woman hath no man than a Manchester, N. H., automobilist who recently pawned his false teeth to enable his wife to get her hair bobbed and to pay for gasoline so they could take a trip to Hampton Beach. As things run nowadays he probably spent more for beauty parlor charges than gasoline.

THE power and weight of the Duluth Chamber of Commerce was conclusively demonstrated the other day. It was ascertained the Prince of Wales was to spend five minutes in Duluth on his way to Chicago. Exerting tremendous pressure, the Duluth Chamber had the Prince's stay in the Zenith City increased from five to twenty minutes.

AN editor with a wide outlook was Hugh Chisholm, editor-in-chief of the Encyclopedia Britannica, who died in London late last month. He was 58 years old. He wrote authoritative articles on politics, literature and public finance for the encyclopedia.

WHEN the Elks build their home, the adding of 100 rooms will serve in the nature of increasing hotel accommodations in Brainerd.

So live your life, said Mark Twain, that even the undertaker will be sorry to see you go.

OWATONNA is spending $4,000 for a new pumper.

Nature Has Provided

the Eye Most Suitable

The American Review of Reviews quotes from the Bulletin of the French Societe de Biologie some interesting facts about the shape and position of the eyes in animals, according as to whether they hunt or are hunted.

In the hunters, the eyes are in the front of the head and close together; they are deep in their sockets and protected by dorsal ridges and by the masticatory muscles. Thus, the binocular field of vision of such animals is large, while the panoramic field is limited. Hunters that lie in wait for their prey have pupils vertically elliptical; those that chase their prey have round pupils.

In hunted animals, the eyes are at the sides of the head and wide apart, with shallow orbits and no protection from ridges or muscles, so that they usually protrude. Hence their binocular field is very small or entirely lacking, but their panoramic field embraces almost the whole horizon.

In the fast runners, the pupil forms a horizontal ellipse, which assists in broadening the field of vision; poor runners have round pupils. The frog, both hunter and hunted, has frontally placed eyes, but they protrude and have crosswise elliptical pupils.

Egyptians First to ## Employ the Epitaph

The word "epitaph" originally meant a sepulcher. Then it was applied to the monument marking a place of burial, and later it was used exclusively to designate the inscription on the monument.

Inscriptions of this kind, it appears, were originated by the Egyptians. From the Egyptians the custom of using them spread to the Greeks and Romans and finally to all Christian nations, says the Pathfinder. Usually an epitaph consists of some sentiment or expression of affection or faith in addition to the name of the deceased and the dates of his birth and death.

Despite the fact that they are invariably associated with such solemn things as death and bereavement, epitaphs are often highly amusing. In some instances their humor is evidently deliberate and intentional, but usually it is the result of faulty English or some accident of diction.

Ingenious Idea

Mrs. Suburb was always very anxious to do the right thing, and she lost no chance at all of showing her neighbors that she was a real, genuine, dyed-in-the-wool lady.

Recently some new people had moved into the neighborhood, and Mrs. Suburb was discussing them with her daughter.

"Well, Mary," she said, "I suppose we shall have to call on those people. Just take your scissors and cut some sort of hole in one of our visiting cards, will you?"

"Whatever for, mother?" asked Mary. "What will that mean?"

"It doesn't mean anything that I know of," replied mother, "but they'll think it does and feel rather small to find out that they don't know as much about society ways as we do."

Bridegroom Must Be Coy

Custom has imposed upon brides in Assam a considerable amount of trouble before their prospective husbands are safely tied up. On her wedding day the bride is garishly attired in a gown flashing with brilliant, and with a band of jewels holding up her veil.

She goes to the house of the bridegroom-to-be. The door is open. The bride and her attendants rush in and search the house. The search continues until the bride discovers the seemingly reluctant bridegroom. When found he resists vigorously before the bride finally overcomes him and carries him off in triumph. The growing of tea is the sole occupation of Assam, and it is after the bustle and bustle of the harvest that the Assam man, or rather Assam woman, takes her mate.

Band Instruments

"Reed instruments" comprise all wind-blown instruments in which the sound is produced by means of a reed attached to the mouthpiece; cornets and other instruments in which the tone is produced by blowing directly into the mouthpiece, usually metal, are known as "brass instruments." The difference is generally indicated by the words "brass," "wood" and "reed."

"Reeds" in the band are saxophone, bassoon, clarinet, oboe and flageolet, generally.

Many Kinds of Pencils

Ordinary black pencils are made in more than fifty varieties, hard and soft. The variety of pencils made with different-colored leads is also considerable. But apart from these the pencil manufacturer issues a variety of pencils made for quite different purposes that are seldom seen by the general public. Special pencils may be had for marking on polished metals, porcelain and patent leather, while there are others with which one can write legibly on glass.

Moon Superstitions

In certain races the man in the moon; far from being a criminal, is a being who, on account of great wisdom, was transferred to the moon, from which he could see all.

To the Chinese he is Yue-tao, who arranges all marriages. The medicine men of the old Red Indian tribes received their power by departing into the middle of a lake and holding consultation with the man in the moon.

"Sweeping" the Clouds

The fabled performance of the old woman of the nursery rhyme who "swept" the cobwebs out of the sky has a scientific parallel in the ability of aviators under some conditions to brush small clouds out of the sky by flying through them rapidly, says London Tit-Bits. A fair-sized summer cumulus or fair-weather cloud may sometimes be dispersed by about twenty flights through it.

HONORABLE MIKE HOLM,
Secretary of State, Capitol
SIR: As required by section 46, General Statutes 1913, I have the honor to furnish you herewith, a statement of the purposes and effects of the amendments proposed to the constitution of the state of Minnesota by the legislature of 1923 and which are to be submitted to the voters of the state at the general election in 1924.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1.
Chapter 447, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to section 2 of article 9 of the constitution of the state. The section now reads as follows:

"Section 5. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the state may contract public debts, but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein; and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature, to be recorded by yeas and nays on the journals of each house respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest on such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The state shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvement, or be a party in carrying on such works, except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the state, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such cases the state shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion."

If amended this section will read as follows:

"Section 5. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the state may contract public debts, but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein; and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature, to be recorded by yeas and nays on the journals of each house respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest on such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The state shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvement, or be a party in carrying on such works, except as authorized by section 16 of article 9, and by article 16 of this constitution; but it may levy an excise tax upon any substance, material, fluid, force or other means or instrumentality, or the business of dealing in, selling or producing any or all thereof, used or useful in producing or generating power for propelling motor or other vehicles used on the public highways of this state, and shall place the proceeds of such tax in the trunk highway fund provided for in section 2 of said article 16 and further except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the state, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such cases the state shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion."

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to confer express authority upon the legislature to provide a special tax on gasoline or other substances used, or useful, for the propulsion of motor vehicles on the public highways of the state or on the business of dealing in, selling or producing such substances. The money so raised by such tax to be used for the construction and maintenance of trunk highways.

The effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be that the cost of the construction and maintenance of trunk highways, the whole of which is now paid by a direct tax on motor vehicles, shall be met in part by the revenue derived from the gasoline tax, so-called, as the legislature may impose.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2.
Chapter 448, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to section 36 of article 4 of the constitution of the state. This section now reads as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city, and shall be subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and shall supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits, now established, before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least ten days in any daily newspaper of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election, and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent, and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses; if of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors. In submitting any such charter or amendment thereto to the qualified voters of such city or village any alternate section of article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto. The legislature may provide general laws relating to affairs of cities, the application of which may be limited to cities of over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, or to cities of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities of either class, and which shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors."

If amended this section will read as follows:

"Section 36. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city, and shall be subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term in no event to exceed six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits, now established, before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by proposal therefor made by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least ten days in any daily newspaper of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election, and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent, and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members."

The purpose of the amendment is to empower the legislature to provide for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as after, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof; provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election, and not otherwise, but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission

relative to submitting amendments of charter to the vote of the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any such city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent, and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall

Made Chief of the Winnebago

Kilbourn, Wis., Oct. 10.—A ceremony novel in Indian history took place in the Wisconsin Dells here when Glen Parsons, manager of a boat company, was taken in as a member of the Winnebago Indian tribe and then made a chief of all the Winnebagoes. Parsons' title among the Indians is Chief Thunder Bird, the Indian word for which is Zazmanga. The honor was given Parsons because of his interest in the Indian tribes and activities with them.

To Make Hibbing Central Market

Hibbing, Minn., October 10.—Business men of this city have organized in an effort that will be directed to make Hibbing a great central market, not only for the people who live in "locations" adjacent to the big village, but in the farming districts in a radius of 100 miles. The first step will be to provide ways and means to make the effort effective, and the Hibbing Commercial club is backing the movement strongly.

Many Cases on Docket

Red Wing, Minn., Oct. 10.—District court convened herewith 82 cases set for jury trial at this term, the largest calendar in the history of the county. There are 180 cases listed, 36 being actions brought by the receivers against stockholders and alleged stockholders of the defunct Goodhue Mercantile Co.

Vibrationless Motoring

Automobile engineers have been striving for many years to lay the ghost of vibration—but it has remained for the Willys-Knight to bring to the United States the secret of vibrationless engineering—

The Lanchester Balancer—a great discovery by a great genius—the invention of Dr. F. W. Lanchester, F.R.S., of Great Britain, builder of one of the world's most expensive motor cars.

With this new ingenuity of engineering, Willys-Knight achieves positive engine smoothness at all speeds. A smoothness almost incredible to the thousands and thousands of automobile owners who have always thought vibration in a car to be a necessary evil.

This achievement is all the more notable for being sponsored by a car with so many other great achievements to its credit. Willys-Knight long since ended the days of valve-grinding and carbon-cleaning—and the Willys-Knight sleeve-valve engine is known around the world as the engine that improves with use.

Leading engineering authorities, car owners, the public generally, are impressed by Willys-Knight's vibrationless performance. A ride is a new thrill—a new experience—a new conception of motoring pleasure. Take a ride today!

St. Paul, Minn., June 14, 1924.
HONORABLE MIKE HOLM,
Secretary of State, Capital.

SIR: As required by section 46, General Statutes 1913, I have the honor to furnish you herewith a statement of the purposes and effects of all amendments proposed to the constitution of the state of Minnesota at the general election of 1924, which are to be submitted to the electors of the state at the general election in 1924.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1.
Chapter 447, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to section 5 of article 9 of the constitution of the state. The section now reads as follows:

"Section 5. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the state may contract public debts, but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein; and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature, to be recorded by yeas and nays on the journals of each house respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The state shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvement, or be a party in carrying on such works, except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the state, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such cases the state shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion. If amended this section will read as follows:

"Section 5. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the state may contract public debts, but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein; and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the legislature, to be recorded by yeas and nays on the journals of each house respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed, or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The state shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvement, or be a party in carrying on such works, except as authorized by section 16 of article 9, and by article 16 of this constitution; but it may levy an excise tax upon any substance, material, fluid, force or other means or instrumentality, or the business of dealing in, selling or producing any or all thereof, used or useful in producing or generating power for propelling motor or other vehicles used on the public highways of this state, and shall place the proceeds of such tax in the trunk highway fund provided for in section 2 of said article 16 and further except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the state, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such cases the state shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion. The purpose of the proposed amendment is to confer express authority upon the legislature to provide a special tax on gasoline or other substances used or useful for the propulsion of motor vehicles on the public highways of the state or on the business of dealing in, selling or producing such substances. The money so raised by such tax to be used for the construction and maintenance of trunk highways.

The effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be that the cost of the construction and maintenance of trunk highways, the whole of which is now paid by a direct tax on motor vehicles, supplemented by federal aid, will be borne in part by the revenue derived from such gasoline tax, so-called, as the legislature may impose.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2.
Chapter 448, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to section 35 of article 4 of the constitution of the state. This section now reads as follows:

"Section 35. Any city or village in this state may frame a charter for its own government as a city consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, as follows: The legislature shall provide, under such restrictions as it deems proper, for a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall be and for the past five years shall have been qualified voters thereof, to be appointed by the district judges of the judicial district in which the city or village is situated, as the legislature may determine, for a term of not more than six years, which board shall, within six months after its appointment, return to the chief magistrate of said city or village a draft of said charter, signed by the members of said board, or a majority thereof. Such charter shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such city or village at the next election thereafter, and if four-sevenths of the qualified voters voting at such election shall ratify the same it shall, at the end of thirty days thereafter, become the charter of such city or village as a city, and supersede any existing charter and amendments thereof. Provided, that in cities having patrol limits now established, such charter shall require a three-fourths majority vote of the qualified voters voting at such election to change the patrol limits now established. Before any city shall incorporate under this act the legislature shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. Duplicate certificates shall be made setting forth the charter proposed and its ratification, which shall be signed by the chief magistrate of said city or village and authenticated by its corporate seal. One of said certificates shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and the other, after being recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which such city or village lies, shall be deposited among the archives of such city or village, and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof. Such charter so deposited may be amended by a board of fifteen commissioners aforesaid, published for at least ten days in any daily newspaper of general circulation in such city or village, or if there be no daily newspaper of general circulation in such city or village then for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper of general circulation in such city or village, and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters of such city or village voting at the next election and not otherwise; but such charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state of Minnesota. The legislature may prescribe the duties of the commission relative to submitting amendments of charter to the people, and shall provide that upon application of five per cent of the legal voters of any city or village, by written petition, such commission shall submit to the vote of the people proposed amendments to such charter set forth in said petition. The board of freeholders above provided for shall be permanent and all the vacancies by death, disability to perform duties, resignation or removal from the corporate limits, or expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original board was created, and said board shall always contain its full complement of members. It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate, and a legislative body of either one or two houses, or of two houses, at least one of them shall be elected by general vote of the electors, and any subordinate or article may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to other articles or sections of the charter or any amendments thereto. The legislature may provide general laws relating to the choice of the voters, and may be limited to cities over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, or to cities of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all such cities. The legislature may, in force to the provisions relating to the same matter, amend the local charter herein provided for. But no local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors."

The purpose of said amendment is to change the number of newspapers in which proposed amendments of home rule charters of cities and villages must be published and the duration of such publications.

The effect of said amendments, if adopted, will be to authorize the publication of proposed amendments to the home rule charter of cities or villages for ten days in one daily newspaper of general circulation therein, if there be such newspaper, or for each week for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper of general circulation therein, if there be no such daily newspaper, instead of publishing the same for thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation therein as now required.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3.
Chapter 449, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to the constitution of Minnesota by adding thereto a new article, to be known as Article 17, to read as follows:

Article 17.
"Section 1. The legislature by law may establish one state owned public terminal grain elevator at Duluth, Minnesota, and one at Minneapolis, Minnesota, acquired by purchase, lease or exercise of the right of eminent domain, sites for the construction, maintenance and operation thereof by the state. Section 2. The legislature by law may provide for the issue and sale of bonds of the state in such amount as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of Section 1 of this article. Section 3. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota inconsistent with the provisions of this article are hereby repealed, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized."

The purpose of said amendment is to expressly empower the legislature to establish, construct, operate and maintain two state owned public terminal elevators.

The effect of said amendment, if adopted, will be to empower the legislature to acquire by purchase, lease or the exercise of the right of eminent domain, sites for one state owned public terminal elevator at Duluth, Minnesota, and another at Minneapolis, Minnesota, to establish, construct, operate and maintain said elevators, to issue and sell bonds of the state in such amount as may be necessary to acquire said sites and to establish, construct, operate and maintain said elevators, and to repeal any provisions of the state constitution inconsistent with said amendment.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 4.
Chapter 450, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1923 proposes an amendment to the constitution of the state of Minnesota by adding thereto a new article, to be known as Article 18, and to be appropriately numbered, to read as follows:

Article 18.
"Section 1. Laws may be enacted for the purpose of encouraging and promoting reforestation and reforestation of lands in this state, whether owned by private persons or the public, including irrevocable provisions for definite and limited taxation of such lands during a term of years, and for a yield tax at or after the end of such term, upon the timber and other forest products so grown. Section 2. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota inconsistent with the provisions of this article are hereby repealed, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized."

The purpose of said amendment is to empower the legislature to enact laws to encourage and promote reforestation and reforestation of publicly and privately owned lands, and to that end to enact irrevocable laws for a definite and limited taxation for a term of years of lands used to reforestation or reforestation, and laws for a yield tax, at the end of or after such term, upon the timber and other forest products so grown upon said lands, and to repeal provisions of the state constitution inconsistent with said amendment.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5.
Chapter 451, Session Laws of Minnesota for 1923 proposes an amendment to the constitution of said state by adding thereto a new article, to be known as Article 17 (a), to read as follows:

Article 17 (a).
"Section 1. The state and (or) any of its political subdivisions, if and whenever authorized by the legislature, may contract debts and pledge the public credit for and engage in any work reasonably tending to prevent or abate forest fires, including the compulsory clearing and improvement of wild lands (whether belonging to the public or privately owned) and the assessment against such lands of the value of all benefits so conferred and the payment of damages so sustained in excess of such benefits. Section 2. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota inconsistent with the provisions of this article are hereby repealed, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized."

The purpose of said amendment is to expressly empower the state, and its political subdivisions, to undertake the prevention and abatement of forest fires, and to incur debts and pledge the public credit in so doing.

The effect of said amendment, if adopted, will be to empower the state, and any of its political subdivisions when authorized by the legislature so to do, to engage in any work reasonably tending to prevent or abate forest fires, including the compulsory clearing and improvement of public and privately owned wild lands, to assess against said lands the benefits accruing therefrom from such work, and to pay the damages to such lands in excess of the benefits, if any resulting from such work, to contract debts and pledge the public credit in carrying on said work, and to repeal all provisions of the state constitution inconsistent with said amendment.

Yours respectfully,

Says "It's Surprising!"

After a demonstration in the new Willys-Knight Sedan equipped with the Lanchester Balancer, the famous aeroplane builder said—"It is surprising. I drove the car at all speeds up to 50 miles an hour and found absolutely no engine vibration."

Automobile engineers have been striving for many years to lay the ghost of vibration—but it has remained for the Willys-Knight to bring to the United States the secret of vibrationless engineering.

The Lanchester Balancer—a great discovery by a great genius—the invention of Dr. F. W. Lanchester, F.R.S., of Great Britain, builder of one of the world's most expensive motor cars.

With this new ingenuity of engineering, Willys-Knight achieves positive engine smoothness at all speeds. A smoothness almost incredible to the thousands and thousands of automobile owners who have always thought vibration in a car to be a necessary evil. This achievement is all the more notable for being sponsored by a car with so many other great achievements to its credit. Willys-Knight long since ended the days of valve-grinding and carbon-cleaning—and the Willys-Knight sleeve-valve engine is known around the world as the engine that improves with use.

Leading engineering authorities, car owners, the public generally, are impressed by Willys-Knight's vibrationless performance. A ride is a new thrill—a new experience—a new conception of motoring pleasure. Take a ride today!

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

CHAPTER—XXVII—Continued

And their own they made her in the end, and at cost of nearly half their numbers. Driven to the quarter-deck, the surviving defenders, urged on by the infuriated Rivalro, maintained awhile their desperate resistance. But in the end, Rivalro went down with a bullet in his head, and the French remnant, numbering scarcely a score of whole men, called for quarter.

Even then the labors of Blood's men were not at an end. The Elizabeth and the Medusa were tight-locked, and Hagthorpe's followers were being driven back aboard their own ship for the second time. Prompt measures were demanded. Whilst Pitt and his seamen bore their part with the sails, and Ogle went below with a gun-crew, Blood ordered the grapples to be loosed at once. Lord Willoughby and the Admiral were already aboard the Victroluse. As they swung off to the rescue of Hagthorpe, Blood, from the quarter-deck of the conquered vessel, looked his last upon the ship that had served him so well. A moment she rocked after her release, then slowly and gradually settled down, the water gurgling and eddying about her topmasts, all that remained visible to mark the spot where she had met her death. As he stood there, above the ghastly shambles in the waist of the Victroluse, some one spoke behind him. "Captain Blood, never before have I seen the impossible made possible by resource and valor, or victory so gallantly snatched from defeat."

He turned, and presented to Lord Willoughby a formidable front. His head-piece was gone, his breastplate dented, his right sleeve a rag hanging from his shoulder about a naked arm. He was splashed from head to foot with blood, and there was blood from a scalp-wound that he had taken matted his hair and mixing with the grime of powder on his face to render him unrecognizable.

But from that horrible mask two vivid eyes looked out preternaturally bright, and from those eyes two tears had ploughed each a furrow through the filth of his cheeks.

CHAPTER XXVIII
HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR

It was not until the evening of the following day that van der Kuylen's truant fleet of nine ships came to anchor in the harbor of Port Royal, and its officers, Dutch and English, were made acquainted with their admiral's true opinion of their worth. Six ships of that fleet were instantly refitted for sea. There were other West Indian settlements demanding the visit of inspection of the new Governor-General, and Lord Willoughby was in haste to sail for the Antilles.

"And meanwhile," he complained to his admiral, "I am detained here by the absence of this fool of a Deputy-Governor."

"Aha! But is it not necessary you remain for dat. And meandime de Vrench will haf deir eye on Barbadoes, vich is nod vell defended. You half here chust the man you vant. He vill require no insidure-shons, dis one. He vill know how to make Port Royal safe, bedder nor you or me."

"You mean Blood? Egad! I had thought of it; and, rip me, why not?"

Blood was sent for. He was a trifle dazzled by the honor proposed to him, when Lord Willoughby made it known. It was so far beyond anything that he had dreamed, and he was assailed by doubts of his capacity to undertake so onerous a charge.

"Damme!" snapped Willoughby, "should I offer it unless I were satisfied of your capacity? If that's your only objection—"

"It is not, my lord. I had counted upon going home so I had. I am hungry for the green lanes of England." He sighed. "There will be apple blossoms in the orchards of Somerset."

"Apple blossoms!" His lordship's voice shot up like a rocket, and cracked on the word. "What the devil—? Apple blossoms!" He looked at van der Kuylen. The admiral raised his brows and pursed his heavy lips. His eyes twinkled humorously in his great face.

"So!" he said. "Fery boedical!" My lord wheeled fiercely upon Captain Blood.

"If you want your past forgotten and your future assured, this is your chance. Your duty lies here, at least for as long as the war lasts. When the war's over, you may get back to Somerset and cider or your native Ireland and its potheen, but until then you'll make the best of Jamaica and rum."

Van der Kuylen exploded into laughter. But Blood remained solemn to the point of glumness. His thoughts were on Miss Bishop, who was somewhere here in this very house in which they stood, but whom he had not seen since his arrival. Had she but shown him some compassion...

And then the rasping voice of Willoughby cut in again, upbraiding him his incredible stupidity in trifling with such a golden opportunity as this. He stiffened and bowed.

"My lord, you are in the right. I shall be as you wish; and very gratefully, let me assure your lordship, I shall know how to earn his majesty's approbation. You may depend upon my loyal service."

Thus it was settled. Blood's commission was made out and sealed in the presence of Mallard, the commandant.

"We sail tomorrow morning," his lordship announced. Blood was startled.

"And Colonel Bishop?" he asked.

"He becomes your affair. You are now the Governor. You will deal with him as you think proper on his return. Hang him from his own yardarm. He deserves it."

"Isn't the task a trifle invidious?" wondered Blood.

"Very well. I'll leave a letter for him. I hope he'll like it."

Captain Blood took up his duties at once. With the sanction of Lord Willoughby he marshalled his buccaners and surrendered to them one-fifth of the captured treasure, leaving to their choice thereafter either to depart or to enrol themselves in the service of King William.

A score of them elected to remain, and amongst these were Jeremy Pitt, Ogle, and Dyke, whose outlawry, like Blood's, had come to an end with the downfall of King James. They were—saving old Wolverstone, who had been left behind at Cartagena—the only survivors of that band of rebels-convict who had left Barbadoes over three years ago in the Cinco Lagas.

On the following morning, whilst van der Kuylen's fleet was making finally ready for sea, Blood sat in the spacious whitewashed room that was the Governor's office, when Major Mallard brought him word that Bishop's homing squadron was in sight.

"I am glad he comes before Lord Willoughby's departure. The orders, Major, are that you place him under arrest the moment he steps ashore."

Peter Blood sat back in his chair and stared at the ceiling, frowning. Came a tap at the door, and an elderly negro slave presented himself. Would his excellency receive Miss Bishop? He sat quite still, conscious that his pulses were drumming in a manner wholly unusual to them. Then quietly he assented.

He rose when she entered, and if he was not as pale as she was, it was because his tan dissembled it. For a moment there was silence between them, as they stood looking each at the other. Then she moved forward, and began at last to speak, haltingly, in an unsteady voice, amazing in one usually so claim and deliberate.

"I... I... Major Mallard has just told me..."

"Major Mallard exceeded his duty," said Blood, and because of the effort he made to steady his voice it sounded harsh and unduly loud. "You alarm yourself without reason, Miss Bishop. Whatever may lie between me and your uncle, you may be sure that I shall not follow the example he has set me. I shall not abuse my position to prosecute a private vengeance. On the contrary, I shall abuse it to protect him, Lord Willoughby's recommendation to me is that I shall treat him without mercy. My own intention is to send him back to his plantation in Barbadoes."

She came slowly forward now. "I... I am glad that you will do that. Glad, above all, for your own sake." She held out her hand to him.

He considered it critically. Then he bowed over it. "I'll not presume to take it in the hand of a thief and a pirate," said he bitterly.

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Back-ache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

200 GUESTS AT GOLDEN WEDDING

Friends and Neighbors Hospitably
Entertained by Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Congdon

HARRY HUGHEY PRESIDED

Wedding Ceremony of 50 Years Ago
Reproduced, Rev. A. G. Patterson
Officiating

Two hundred friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Congdon, in Oak Lawn township on Friday evening, the occasion being their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

By eight o'clock the Congdon home was filled with a jolly assemblage, that included many from Brainerd as well as a big representation from the rural communities. Harry Hughey, of Long Lake township, acted as master of ceremonies, handling that position in a very competent manner. At 9:30 o'clock the bridal party came into the reception room, the bride supported by a sister of Mr. Congdon's, and J. A. Wilson as groomsman. The ceremony of fifty years ago was reproduced by Rev. A. G. Patterson, of the Presbyterian church.

After the ceremony, Col. C. D. Johnson, in his inimitable style, addressed the happy couple. The colonel at his best kept everyone either in laughter or tears, as he spoke of the olden times, for Messrs. Johnson and Congdon have been friends since the earliest days of Brainerd's history. S. F. Alderman, A. C. Mraz and Rowland Jenkins, accompanied by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland at the piano, sang a number of songs, both humorous and serious, greatly to the delight of all present. The trio was repeatedly encored and responded in their best style.

The young people served a delicious luncheon, a very fitting close to the happy occasion.

Everyone was glad to meet Mrs. Annie Nevers, of California, who taught the first public school in Crow Wing county. This school was held in the Beaulieu building in old Crow Wing, and is well remembered by the old timers. Mrs. Nevers is always welcome at any meeting in this county, whether among the old or new settlers.

Miss Lydia Rathbun and Frank Congdon were married in Nelson county, Pennsylvania, on October 10th, 1874. They resided at Nelson until October 9th, 1877, when they moved to Crow Wing county, where they have lived ever since. Mr. Congdon followed the contracting business for the first eight years in Brainerd, and then moved to the farm in Oak Lawn township, where the family has since resided.

Mr. Congdon claims to be the only dairyman in this section who has made a small fortune in that business, and he attributes that success to hard patient labor and honest business methods. He has retired from active farm work, turning over the home place that he has improved to one of the finest in the county, to one of his sons.

There are five children in the Congdon family, three boys and two girls. Merton B. Congdon and Isaac A. Congdon are both machinists in the Northern Pacific shops at Brainerd, and Henry R. farms the homestead. The daughters are married, one living in Minneapolis, the other in the West. All were at home for their parents' anniversary except the daughter residing on the Pacific coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Congdon are among the oldest residents in this county. They have reared an exceptionally fine family, have worked hard in building up and improving their farm home, and are among the highly respected citizens of this vicinity.

The Dispatch unites with the many friends of this estimable pioneer couple in offering congratulations on their golden wedding anniversary, and in wishing for them many years of happiness and prosperity in the future.

Lowell Parent-Teachers

The Lowell Parent-Teachers association will hold their first meeting of the season on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

Drama League

The Drama League will hold its first meeting of the season Monday afternoon, October 13th, at the home of Mrs. R. A. Beise, North Fourth street. All members are urged to be present.

AMERICA IS A GOOD COUNTRY

Cong. Brand, Dairyman and Farmer,
Gives First Hand Observations

PEACE PLAN AIDS EUROPE

People, Not Congress, to Decide on Any Constitutional Changes

All who attended the political meeting at Gardner hall on Friday evening heard the issues most ably discussed by Congressman Charles Brand, of Ohio, Curtis Johnson and Judge Oscar Hallam, of Minnesota.

Congressman Brand, a practical dairyman and dirt farmer gave a most able address, and proved conclusively that he has the political issues well in hand. He has spent some little time in Europe recently, and presented facts concerning conditions there as they bear upon the politics of the United States.

Dawes Plan Relieves Despondency
Mr. Brand was in Europe at the time the Dawes peace plan was projected, and he watched closely its effect upon the various countries. There was much joy everywhere in Europe at the thought of the assistance which this plan brought them, and which did much to bring the European countries out of their despondency.

America Selling Supplies to Europe
As a result of the peace plan there is a prosperity boom in Europe, said Mr. Brand. American capital has now been put to work there, several countries are spending millions in telephone systems alone. American engineers are working out water supplies and water power projects there, and all of the materials for these improvements are coming from the United States, so that this country is benefitting materially from the better conditions brought about in Europe as a result of the peace plan.

Government-Owned Railways
While in Europe, Mr. Brand found that the railways are owned by the governments. He asked railway employees in France, Italy and Greece what wages they were making, and found that the general average was about one-third what similar employees in the United States make under private ownership.

There was a railway strike in Greece while Mr. Brand was there. The men were working twelve hours a day and struck for a ten-hour day. The government owns the railways and told the men it would see about their demands, so the strike ended that way, and the men haven't yet won the shorter day.

Foreigners Prefer America
Mr. Brand called attention to the fact that LaFollette advocates European methods of government for the United States, and in answer to this stated that President Harding pardoned eleven foreigners, sent to Leavenworth during the world war, with the one provision, that they all go back to their own countries. Without one exception, the eleven chose to serve out their terms in an American penitentiary rather than go back to Europe, and all of them hope to make their homes in the United States when they are freed, a poor argument for bringing European plans of government to this country.

People, Not Congress, Change Constitution
"We are opposed to changing the constitution of the United States, to give its power to congress," said Mr. Brand. "We don't want Congress to be given more power than it already has. We want any changes in the constitution submitted first to the people in the form of amendments, and let the people decide upon these changes instead of congress. Why, if such power were delegated to congress, that body could annul any of the amendments that the people of this country have worked so hard, even fought for, to make a part of this constitution. Congress would have the power to license slavery again, or to make the sale and use of intoxicating liquor legal."

"We don't want congress to have the power to take away our property from us, which they could do if given constitutional powers. We feel that every person who earns the money to purchase his property should have a right to that property, and that no one, not even congress, would have the power to take it away."

"We don't want the United States to do what LaFollette advocates: to annul the treaty of Versailles, which would mean another war in Europe, and that would mean the drawing in to the trouble the United States, making it necessary for us to furnish munitions, ships and men as we did in 1917. We are responsible for this continent. We can do more for Europe by keeping out of its politics and being only a friend and an arbitrator, as we are under the Dawes plan."

There is only one way for the farmers of the United States to be prosperous, said Mr. Brand, and that is to separate us from the cheap land and cheap labor and cheap living conditions of the European.

Home Production of Sugar
The tariff has built up our country until we are now consuming 92 1/2 per cent of all of our farm products. Our main surplus crop is wheat. Strange to say, we are importing as many farm products as we are exporting. We are importing twice as much sugar as we are exporting wheat, and wheat is our chief export crop. Why not, instead of producing such a surplus of wheat, produce our own sugar, then the tariff would work on wheat as it does now on beef, butter, eggs, wool and fruit.

Ohio's Big Trend to Coolidge
Ohio has already made up its mind in this political campaign, said Mr. Brand. The state will give Coolidge an even bigger majority than it gave President Harding.

"Down in Ohio we are opposed to government ownership of railroads. One reason is that one-third of our taxes, in one county alone, is paid by the railroads, and if the government owned the roads there would be no taxation of railway property. In a great many sections, the railway taxes amount to fifty per cent of the total taxation, and we can't afford to give this source of revenue."

Curtis Johnson's Address
"In this campaign for the safe-keeping of our Constitution, we find members of the Farmer-Labor party dodging the issues. They tell us that although they believe in government ownership of railroads, it does not enter into the state campaign and therefore they will not discuss it," said Curtis M. Johnson.

"Reducing the power of the United States Supreme Court is a fine principle they say, but why talk about it, it does not effect the state of Minnesota they tell us."

"Do each one of you realize what the limitation of Supreme Court power would mean? All of the sacred rights of the American people are bound in the Constitution. The Farmer-Labor party would give Congress, preferably a Congress friendly to their aims and principles, the right to dictate whether the right of habeas corpus, the right of free speech and worship, the unrestricted right of the press and innumerable other rights sacred to you and me are Constitutional."

"Think of it! Congress would have the authority to decide whether the principles which have formed the backbone of this great country for over 140 years have the right to live. The Farmer-Labor party is a political organization without a leg to stand on—a group of radicals whose sole purpose seems to tear down the very things essential to the progress of the nation by injecting hatred and bitterness into the minds of their followers. They are a bunch not entitled to a place in American politics."

"The Farmer-Labor party was formed merely as a trap to catch votes without a single constructive plank in its wobbly platform. The organization is strong on promises. Why did they pick out the farmer and the laborer to work upon? The farmer, they tell you, is entitled to high prices and cheap labor while labor they say is entitled to high wages and cheap prices on the commodities they buy. Everyone who has common sense knows that this combination will not work. Success will not come to anyone unless he or she pays the price through service to mankind. The Farmer-Labor group has not a single principle which reveals anything that is constructive or beneficial."

"Politics will not solve personal problems. It is up to everyone to furnish the real 'stuff' to help himself. I have no time for the Farmer-Labor party and I am not hired to say that or to camouflage for farmer votes."

"No one had a word to say about Bob LaFollette's run for the presidency. Bob LaFollette fixed that at his one-man convention. The third party is a menace to the nation with its destructive policies; a vote for Coolidge for president, Dawes for vice president, Theodore Christianson for governor and Tom Schall for United States Senator is merely safeguarding the rights of the people from a radical group seeking to destroy the constructive ideals of the American people."

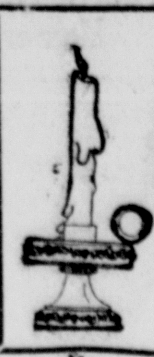

"President Coolidge, with his simplicity, his honesty, his tolerance and his courage is one of the best presidents the United States has ever had. Charles G. Dawes, his able running-mate, is the man who virtually opened the world markets to America with his plan for settling the financial difficulties of war torn Europe."

"There is no comparison between Tom Schall and Magnus Johnson, rival candidates for the United States Senate. Magnus is a huge joke. What did he ever do in Washington? I'll tell you. Magnus took second place in a milking contest, and there were just two contestants in it! Of course, he was made promises and he now tells us that if he had the oratorical powers and brains of a Bryan he might be able to do something."

"The thing that will decide the coming election for the elements seeking to uphold the rights and privileges of the American people is a large vote on November 4. It is our duty as American citizens to go to the polls on that day and cast our vote. If you wish to maintain the same freedom that you and your forefathers before you have enjoyed for over a century, cast your vote for the candidates who stand for constructive principles and for the Constitution."

Platte Lake Church Sale?
The progressive ladies aid of the Platte Lake church will have their annual church sale Wednesday night Oct. 22, in the basement of their church.

Many good and useful articles that were prepared for this sale by diligent women, also various articles sent by a friend from Minneapolis, will be sold to the highest bidder.

Our 20th Birthday Celebration

Continues All Next Week

We have not tried to make this celebration so much a "sale" as a splendid showing of those garments and materials which discriminating women expect to find in our store at this season of the year. It is more of a display of that service you will expect of an institution of our kind.

True, we have many special values which are compelling the attention of the economical. These will be continued throughout next week with others yet to be announced but the showing of wonderful garment values, the beautiful dress fabrics, the pretty dress accessories and the many other things women wish to wear are what we are emphasizing most. You'll appreciate seeing them so we heartily invite you to come in. Our garments will particularly interest you.

One Garment Has Given 20 Years of Good Service

In response to our advertisement asking if any patron still had a garment purchased of us about 20 years ago, Mrs. J. C. Wager of 1402 S. Broadway says she still has and is wearing regularly the coat she purchased of us 20 years ago this fall.

It was a coat of black broadcloth and was of such excellent materials and made in a tailored style that she still finds it to meet her needs most satisfactorily.

Another 13 Years Old

Another lady informs us that a coat purchased thirteen years ago is still giving her service after wearing it every winter since then. It was refined only last year. She says it is so satisfactory and so warm she does not want to discard it.

It Is Service Given

Not every woman wishes a garment to wear so long but service must be in every garment we sell. To some the style is the service and hundreds of women tell us of the pride they have had in wearing our garments. One college girl told us how the girls so appreciated her coat that she could have loaned it constantly—it was so much admired. We have a garment to give you the service you wish.

RIVERSIDE SCHOOL P. T. A. MEETING

Annual Election of Officers Held And an Excellent Program Given

CITY ATTORNEY A SPEAKER

Explains to Assemblage the Proposed
State and City Amendments

The parent-teachers association of the Riverside school met at the school on Friday evening. The annual election of officers was held together with an excellent program.

City Attorney D. H. Fullerton gave an interesting explanation of the proposed state and city amendments, which are to come before the voters at the next general election.

Miss Sigrid Stendal gave an amusing musical reading and responded very graciously to an encore. Victor Bushway rendered a violin solo which was well received.

Albert O. Anderson, of the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League, gave an excellent talk on the proposed high school sites, and explained the necessity of having it centrally located by the voters at the coming election.

The following officers of the association were elected for the coming year:

President—Mrs. Jacob Severson.
Vice President—Mrs. Chester Thabes.

Treasurer—Simon Anderson.
Secretary—Mrs. John Spencer.

The question of a skating rink for West Brainerd was brought up and a committee appointed to attend to the matter.

After a delicious lunch the meeting adjourned. The Association is very grateful to the Haydon Company for the ice cream which was donated for the occasion.

Children's Books

A large number of children's books were purchased during the summer in renewed bindings and were shelved and waxed before being put on the shelves. This should secure long life and cleanliness for the books if handled with ordinary care.

A new shipment of books in renewed bindings has just been received and will receive the same treatment before being placed on the shelves for use.

Books wear out rapidly with the best of care, and parents are asked to cooperate with the librarian in seeing that their children do not abuse books.

Make Your Money Make More Prosperity

Whatever helps Brainerd to prosper increases your own chances for prosperity. And one thing that makes a town prosperous is large bank deposits, which enable the bank to give proper support to farmers and business men.

Bank your money promptly at this safe, progressive state bank. By doing so you will help both yourself and your home community.

200 GUESTS AT GOLDEN WEDDING

Friends and Neighbors Hospitably
Entertained by Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Congdon

HARRY HUGHEY PRESIDED

Wedding Ceremony of 50 Years Ago
Reproduced, Rev. A. G. Patterson
Officiating

Two hundred friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Congdon, in Oak Lawn township on Friday evening, the occasion being their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

By eight o'clock the Congdon home was filled with a jolly assemblage, that included many from Brainerd as well as a big representation from the rural communities. Harry Hughey, of Long Lake township, acted as master of ceremonies, handling that position in a very competent manner.

At 9:30 o'clock the bridal party came into the reception room, the bride supported by a sister of Mr. Congdon's, and J. A. Wilson as groomsmen. The ceremony of fifty years ago was reproduced by Rev. A. G. Patterson, of the Presbyterian church.

After the ceremony, Col. C. D. Johnson, in his inimitable style, addressed the happy couple. The colonel at his best kept everyone either in laughter or tears, as he spoke of the olden times, for Messrs. Johnson and Congdon have been friends since the earliest days of Brainerd's history. S. F. Alderman, A. C. Mraz and Rowland Jenkins, accompanied by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland at the piano, sang a number of songs, both humorous and serious, greatly to the delight of all present. The trio was repeatedly encored and responded in their best style.

The young people served a delicious luncheon, a very fitting close to the happy occasion.

Everyone was glad to meet Mrs. Annie Neviers, of California, who taught the first public school in Crow Wing county. This school was held in the Beaulieu building in old Crow Wing, and is well remembered by the old timers. Mrs. Neviers is always welcome at any meeting in this county, whether among the old or new settlers.

Miss Lydia Rathbun and Frank Congdon were married in Nelson county, Pennsylvania, on October 10th, 1874. They resided at Nelson until October 9th, 1877, when they moved to Crow Wing county, where they have lived ever since. Mr. Congdon followed the contracting business for the first eight years in Brainerd, and then moved to the farm in Oak Lawn township, where the family has since resided.

Mr. Congdon claims to be the only dairyman in this section who has made a small fortune in that business, and he attributes that success to hard patient labor and honest business methods. He has retired from active farm work, turning over the home place that he has improved to one of the finest in the county, to one of his sons.

There are five children in the Congdon family, three boys and two girls. Merton B. Congdon and Isaac A. Congdon are both machinists in the Northern Pacific shops at Brainerd, and Henry R. farms the home-stand. The daughters are married, one living in Minneapolis, the other in the West. All were at home for their parents anniversary except the daughter residing on the Pacific coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Congdon are among the oldest residents in this county. They have reared an exceptionally fine family, have worked hard in building up and improving their farm home, and are among the highly respected citizens of this vicinity.

The Dispatch unites with the many friends of this estimable pioneer couple in offering congratulations on their golden wedding anniversary and in wishing for them many years of happiness and prosperity in the future.

Lowell Parent-Teachers

The Lowell Parent-Teachers association will hold their first meeting of the season on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

Drama League

The Drama League will hold its first meeting of the season Monday afternoon, October 13th, at the home of Mrs. R. A. Beise, North Fourth street. All members are urged to be present.

FARRELL TELLS WHY WASHINGTON WON

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 11.—Washington's victory in the American League pennant race was one of the most popular ever scored in major league baseball. The club was a hot favorite as soon as it began to appear that the Senators had a chance to win the pennant, and the support was shouted at the players all around the circuit had much to do in keeping the team in good spirits.

Walter Johnson said that the encouragement the team found in the realization that the fans in every city wanted them to beat out the Yankees was one of the biggest factors that contributed to their success. The team certainly did win on spirit, and if the Yankees had been on their toes and fighting all the way, Washington might not have gotten into the world's series.

Buck Harris, the 27-year-old manager, never let his head droop and he spread the same spirit among the whole team. It is interesting now to recall what Harris said when he was asked by the United Press to make a statement on what chances his team had to win the pennant.

The club was in Cleveland for a most important series. Harris replied in a telegram to New York, the first paragraph of which read: "Washington has the best chance of winning the pennant race. No team in the league is fighting so hard for the flag. There is no suggestion of defeat from Walter Johnson down to the youngest rookie. WE ARE GOING TO WIN! THAT'S ALL THERE IS TO IT."

There is a sermon in that last line, and if you are looking around for a reason why the team upset all calculations and won the pennant, look over that line and give it a little study.

Also look over the last paragraph of the statement which read: "Walter Johnson will pitch the opening game of the world's series if our arms and legs and back and brains hold out. The Washington players are giving all they have every day to win. THAT SPIRIT CANNOT BE BEATEN."

Which recalls that famous war slogan which was hung on the dressing room wall at Princeton and which inspired a very ordinary football team to go out and win a championship. The sign hung up by Coach Bill Roper was: "A team that won't be beaten can't be beaten."

DEMPSEY-FIRPO FIGHT PICTURES

WILL BE AT LYCEUM THEATRE
TUESDAY, OCT. 14, ONE DAY ONLY

Local fight fans will be given their first opportunity to see for themselves the greatest heavyweight fight known to the roped arena when the "Dempsey-Firpo" fight pictures open at the Lyceum Theatre Tuesday, Oct. 14th, one day only.

This is the fight in which it is claimed by many that Dempsey was pushed through the ropes, but which is contradicted by the pictures showing clearly the very blow that knocked him into the press box. It has been said also that Dempsey was pushed back into the arena. At any rate Dempsey was given the decision, all of which means that he won the battle. When it is considered that he floored Firpo seven times in one round and in the following round knocked him to the mat twice, the second time for the count, it can be understood why he was given the decision. However, Dempsey says himself that this was his hardest fight.

In addition the slow motion pictures are used so that the patrons are given every opportunity to see the very blows and how and where they were delivered, which relieves any question of doubt regarding the course of the battle or the aggressiveness of the aspirants.

The pictures will be shown in addition to the Lyceum's regular feature program, which will in reality mean two features in one show. For this a slight increase in admission will be charged, the prices for this engagement being 10 and 35 cents.

Jewish Sanhedrim

The Sanhedrim was the supreme national council of the Jews, traditionally supposed to have been instituted by Moses, but more probably founded by Ezra, after the return from the captivity (536 B. C.). It is first mentioned by Josephus, in connection with the reign of John Hyrcanus II (76-38 B. C.). The Sanhedrim was composed of 70 or, as some say, 71 members; was presided over by the high priest; and exercised administrative and judicial functions. After the destruction of Jerusalem in 70 A. D., this council led a migratory existence, and finally established itself at Babylon. It became wholly extinct in the year 425 A. D.—Kansas City Star.

WASHINGTON HAS A SORE THROAT TODAY

THE TOWN YELLED, WHOOPED, SHOUTED AND CHEERED ALL NIGHT

CAPITAL RESEMBLED A COLLEGE BURG FILLED WITH CRAZY FRESHMEN

By HENRY L. FARRELL
Washington, Oct. 11.—Washington yelled, shouted, whooped and cheered all night long but still had a hoarse and raspy voice this morning to acclaim to the world that her Washington Senators were the best ball team in the world.

When the Senators, champions of the American league and a national idol, beat the New York Giants, the champions of the National league, in the seventh and decisive game of the series yesterday, the town turned into a college burg, filled with crazy freshmen.

Nothing at New London after a Yale-Harvard boat race, nothing at New Haven or Cambridge after a Yale-Harvard game or anything else any place, could have approached the fervor and intensity of Washington's celebration last night when the baseball championship of the world was knocked into the city by the rookie bat of Earl McNeely, a young man from the Pacific coast.

Washington has a lot of good reasons to be proud of the new baseball champions of the world that beat the New York Giants in one of the toughest series that was ever played. They outgamed them, they out-spirited and outplayed them.

The winning of the world's championship for the first time did not bring as much joy to the heart of Washington as did the fact that grand old Walter Johnson got official credit for winning the seventh and decisive game of the greatest series on record.

Johnson will go on the books as the winner of the game, but there was Buck Harris who hit a homer and who knocked in two other runs with a lone single, and there was Muddy Ruel, who hit a double in the hard twelfth inning and scored on another two-base hit by McNeely.

Most Dangerous Big Game

As fierce as the tiger and more ferocious than the lion, the African elephant is known by many big-game hunters as the most dangerous of wild animals. Although its Indian cousin has been a servant of man for thousands of years and delights crowds at circuses throughout the countries where carnivals are popular, there is not a single recorded instance of the African elephant being tamed. A training camp was established in Congo several years ago in the hope of teaching them to work, but the attempt failed. The African elephant sometimes bulks three as big as most Asiatic specimens seen at a circus, according to hunters. Their intelligence and cunning are amazing. They also possess a keen sense of smell, being able to detect the presence of a man at least 1,000 yards away. At the crash of a gun, they stampede, fleeing almost noiselessly. In spite of their huge bulk, into the jungle grasses, Popular Mechanics Magazine.

LATONIA TRACK DRAWS 50,000

TRACK IS FAST AND THE WEATHER CLEAR AND CRISP

(By United Press)
Latonia Track, Covington, Ky., Oct. 11.—The track was fast and the weather clear and crisp today for the run of the third international special at a mile and a quarter for $50,000 added.

Officials estimated 50,000 persons, the largest crowd ever to see a horse race at Latonia, would be in the stands for the international event.

MORE THAN $50,000 HUNG UP AS PRIZE

Latonia Race Track, Covington, Ky., Oct. 11.—A golden dawn was greeted today with smiles of appreciation by thoroughbred trainers, officials and thousands of visitors who came here to see the running of the $50,000 added international special. The golden dawn meant a perfect day for the running of the stakes over a fast, golden path.

The winner of the third international will draw down more than $50,000, one of the largest purses ever offered by an American track.

Nine finely trained thoroughbreds champed impatiently at their bits, awaiting the notes of the bugle that will call them to battle for a fortune.

Ten originally were named to start in the third international, but Wise Counsellor had the misfortune to spread a hoof while being exercised Friday.

By 10 a. m. every unreserved seat in the stands was taken and from then on the great crowd began filling up the standing room, temporary benches and other places of vantage along the track.

Epinard was made the early favorite in the mutuels. The track handicapper, who has been unusually successful in picking winners this season, selected Epinard to win. In honor of the French colt the French flag was flying on the tall staff on the field just below Old Glory.

A better day for the race could not have been ordered.

First Railroad to Kansas

The first railroad to reach Kansas was the Hannibal & St. Joseph, which handled goods across the river from St. Joseph to Elwood, Kan., by ferry. There were no rails laid in Kansas when this was done in 1850. The first actual railroad on Kansas soil was the Marysville, Palmetto & Roseport, now a part of the St. Joseph & Grand Island system. It was built from Elwood to Wathena in the latter part of 1859 and 1860, and the first locomotive and train went over the line April 28, 1860.

SQUIRE EDGE GATE—Talking to Departed Spirits

FARRELL TELLS WHY WASHINGTON WON WASHINGTON

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Oct. 11.—Washington's victory in the American League pennant race was one of the most popular ever scored in major league baseball. The club was a hot favorite as soon as it began to appear that the Senators had a chance to win the pennant, and the support was shouted at the players all around the circuit had much to do in keeping the team in good spirits.

Walter Johnson said that the encouragement the team found in the realization that the fans in every city wanted them to beat out the Yankees was one of the biggest factors that contributed to their success. First Railroad to Kansas

The first railroad to reach Kansas was the Hannibal & St. Joseph, which handled goods across the river from St. Joseph to Elwood, Kan., by ferry. There were no rails laid in Kansas when this was done in 1859. The first actual railroad on Kansas soil was the Marysville, Palmetto & Roseport, now a part of the St. Joseph & Grand Island system. It was built from Elwood to Watheua in the latter part of 1859 and 1860, and the first locomotive and train went over the line April 28, 1860.

Lucky Criminals

The Braganza, one of the largest diamonds in the world, was found by three criminals, who had been sent into exile among the cannibal tribes and wild beasts in the Brazilian interior. They took the stone to a priest, who turned it over to the governor. The gem became the glory of the crown jewels of Portugal, and the king, in gratitude, pardoned the exiles.

No Rest for Sinners

Justice is only a few jumps behind the most clever sinner. There is no rest for the wicked, a guilty conscience is ever on the burning sands.—Exchange.
